INTERACTIVE MEDICAL EXHIBITS

Our MEGA™ Collection of interactive medical exhibits has a reputation for attracting the attention of crowds and the media at various events—from fundraisers, to conferences, to private practice openings and children’s museums.

These larger-than-life, scientifically accurate, inflatable models of the human anatomy are not only fun and eye-catching, they also teach people, via informational signs, about preventing common diseases that plague all age groups. Therefore, Medical Inflatable exhibits offer an ideal platform for companies and organizations to advertise and publicize their products or services, while promoting health education and healthy lifestyles.

Both The Doctors and The Dr. Oz Show have featured one or more of the MEGA Collection of portable exhibits, which currently includes the MEGA Heart®, MEGA Brain®, MEGA Lungs® and MEGA Body®. To learn more, visit our website www.medicalinflatables.com and the “Medical Inflatables” You Tube channel.
